St. John's Congregation Votes To Take Bids on Church Addition

With its building fund campaign acclaimed a success, the congregation of St. John's church at Mokena has authorized the committee in charge to get bids on the 52 by 102-foot two-story church school annex as planned.

This action was taken at a victory dinner last Monday night in the social room of the church. Those in charge of the fund raising campaign reported that more than $75,000 has been pledged for purpose of building an addition to the church and more was expected to be subscribed.

Great enthusiasm was expressed over attainment of the goal and it was reflected in the action taken at the congregation's annual meeting which followed the dinner in authorizing the building committee to proceed with its plans and obtain bids as soon as possible.

It is the hope of those in charge that actual construction will be started this spring. The new addition will join the church on the north.

Since the payment of the pledges run over a period of three years, the congregation also voted to sell building bonds to members and friends so money will be available to meet contractual obligations.

Reports at the annual meeting indicated that the church made good progress in 1957. There are 42 new members and the 1957 budget was overpaid by about $3,000.

Three men were elected to three year terms on the church council, Warren Mancke, Paul Rauch and Kenneth Sherwood. They will be installed this Sunday.

Two vacancies on board of the St. John's Cemetery Association also were filled by the election of Eugene Hinspeter and Howard Martie, each for a period of four years.

E. D. Friant Plans Commercial Building Fronting Wolf Road

Ervin D. Friant, Mokena contractor, plans to erect a commercial building containing six rental units on Wolf road between the New Lenox Lumber Co. office and the Hunter Foundry.

Mr. Friant has a rough draft of the plans for the building, which will be a one-story brick and concrete block structure, but does not have any figures yet on the cost, he said. He hopes to start construction in February or March so the building will be ready for occupancy by summer.

Friant appeared before the Mokena board at its meeting Tuesday night to make certain that the location is zoned for business. He will apply for his permit after determining the size of the building.

The site, which has a frontage of 100 feet on Wolf road and tapers to a 50-foot width at the rear, was purchased from the Hunter Foundry. The building will be on a modified "L" shape with a 60-foot frontage facing Wolf road. Some of the spaces will open to the south.

Welsch Lumber Co. has been granted a building permit to make an addition to its yard.

A permit for a home to be built on Mokena st., was granted to the contractors, Swider and Sons, of Blue Island. Permits were granted Fred Mager, Second st., to enclose a porch and to Howard Beagley, Front st., for a bathroom.

Now Set for Feb. 24 So Key Witness to Murder May Testify

By ANNE RODGER

With another continuance granted, Woodrow Blaylock, of Tinley Park, awaiting trial for the slaying of his mother-in-law, Florence Anderson, 60, in the course of a shooting spree that resulted in the wounding of three other persons, is believed to have set a new record for the course as far as murder cases go.

Blaylock, who has been in the Cook county jail since Oct. 29, 1956, was granted his 18th continuance on Monday of this week, when his case was scheduled for trial. It is now set for Feb. 24.

All but one of the 17 previous delays were given at the request of Charles Bellows, counsel for the defense. The continuance granted Monday, after friends and members of the victim's family had appeared to urge action in the case, was granted by Judge Walker Butler at the request of Assistant State's Attorney William Winn.

Bellows, who is reputed to be one of the top defense attorneys in the region, indicated his client might be willing to plead guilty if he had some assurance that the sentence would be held to the minimum of 14 years.

To make it easy on the state's attorney's office and the court to respectively recommend and impose such a sentence, Bellows was endeavoring to talk (Continued on Page 2)

New Lenox Lions to Hold Annual Skating Meet Sunday Afternoon

The annual skating meet sponsored by the New Lenox Lions club is scheduled to be held this Sunday, Jan. 12, on Hickory creek, beginning at 2 o'clock.

The course is situated at the east end of Elm st., and if the cold that descended on the area Monday night continues to blanket the region, the ice should be in fine condition, according to the committee in charge.

As of Tuesday morning the ice was estimated to be about four inches thick and with continued cold weather it will freeze deeper.

New Druggist Now Gives Full Time to Operation of Store

William Geisler, Mokena's new druggist, is now giving full attention to the store formerly operated by the late Henry Boleman.

Mr. Geisler purchased the lease and stock from Mrs. Lillian Boleman about the first of

William Geisler

December but devoted only a part of his time to the operation until now.

The prescription department is being reorganized, Mr. Geisler said, and he is expanding the department devoted to infant needs. He also plans other improvements. Mr. Geisler said he will handle newspapers, including the Sunday issues, and expect to add magazines soon.

The Geisler family, which came to Mokena from Lockport, is living in the apartment attached to the store.

VFW Posts Presents Flag to Village

The Mokena post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars has presented an American flag to the village. It will be displayed at the village hall.

Water Rates Same Outside as Inside Mokena

Protest against a double charge for water to persons living outside the corporate limits of Mokena bore fruit Tuesday night before the village board.

It has been the rule in the past that the water rates for customers served outside the village be twice the rates for those inside.

In mailing out the bills under the new ordinance that calls for a minimum payment of $7.50 for two months of water service, the old rule was followed.

When Roy Newton and Nick Heiman appeared before the board Tuesday night to protest there was nothing in the ordinance fixing a different rate for persons outside the village the point was found to be well founded.

Will Install Mokena Youth Head Of De Molay Chapter Saturday

Richard DeForest, Mokena, elected master counselor—top office of Joliet chapter, Order of DeMolay—is to be installed as such at ceremonies to be conducted Saturday night, Jan. 11, in the Joliet Masonic temple, 129 E. Jefferson st., at 8 o'clock. The public is invited.

The master counselor-elect is 18 years old and a senior at Lincoln-Way high school. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. DeForest, Woodland Circle.

Also to be installed from Mokena, is Roger Swart, son of Mr. and Mrs. Geret Swart, 53 E. McGovney, to the office of senior deacon.

Henry Clark, Jr., Mokena, who was master counselor in 1955, will serve as the installing officer. He also is to make the flower talk.

The Rev. William J. Riemann, pastor of St. John's church, Mokena, is to give the invocation.

Miss Lois Oder is to be the organist and Miss June French the soloist. Bethel No. 48, Order of Job's Daughters, will provide an escort.

Mr. and Mrs. DeForest will be guests of honor.

Dancing will follow the installation and refreshments will be served.

NOW SET FOR FEB. 24—

Mrs. Shirley Blaylock, estranged wife of the defendant, into giving approval of the proposal.

Mrs. Blaylock and her daughter by a previous marriage, Judy Roe, still showing signs of strain from the horrible attack, and physical evidence of the shooting fray, were unreceptive to Bellow's proposal.

They expressed fear for their lives when and if Blaylock should be released.

If a plea of guilty is entered by the defendant, the judge could sentence him to any term of years but not less than 14, life imprisonment or death in the electric chair.

Under the minimum sentence, Blaylock, with time off for good behavior could be released after serving eight years and three months.

Prosecutor Winn, requested the latest continuance in order to have a key witness, Hilding Anderson, 65, brought here from Florida where he has been living for the past year. He is the father of Mrs. Blaylock, and the most seriously injured of the shooting victims who survived.

The delay was asked because Anderson was not well enough to travel to Chicago. According to his physician, he should be able to stand the trip by the middle of February.

(Gets Anonymous Letters

Assistant States Attorney Winn, in an outburst in the corridor outside of the court room, expressed his displeasure at recent publicity given the postponement of the trial. He also mentioned receiving two anonymous letters from Tinley Park in the same vein.

When the case came up before Judge Butler Monday, he announced the state was ready to start the trial.

Blaylock and his wife, Shirley, were separated. She and their 2-year old son were living with her parents at 171st and Oak Forest ave., at the time of the shooting. He was under an injunction to refrain from molesting her.

The events leading to the fray began when the accused Blaylock is alleged to have kicked on the back door of the Anderson home about 1 a.m. Oct. 29, 1956.

The blast of a shotgun pierced the silence of the night as Blaylock upon entering the home, is said to have first loosed a shotgun at the head of his mother-in-law, and then pumped three bullets from a 22 calibre pistol into her body, killing her instantly.

The telephone had been ripped from the wall, indicating that perhaps the assailant had tried to prevent Mrs. Anderson calling for help before he shot her.

Blaylock then allegedly visited the bedroom of his father-in-law and shot him with a pistol. Three bullets pierced the spinal cord, confining Mr. Anderson to a wheel chair for the rest of his life.

A shotgun was used on the other three victims. Blaylock's wife, Shirley, was wounded in the neck and face; his stepdaughter Judy, suffered a wound on the face; and Fred Erickson, who made his home with the Anderson family, was grazed on the ear by the shotgun blast.

Blaylock fled after the shooting and Judy drove to the Bettenhausen farm nearby for help. The accused was taken into custody by the Chicago Heights police a short time after the shooting at a gas station where he had stopped to make a telephone call.

The Tinley Park police department had received several complaints of disturbances at the Blaylock home prior to the couple separating. Police Chief Harold C. Moore, has stated. About two years previous, Mrs.

FIERY FINISH FOR CHRISTMAS TREES—The Lions club and Boy Scouts of Mokena, with an important assist from the volunteer fire department have gathered up and burned most of the Christmas trees in the community last Sunday afternoon. Hundreds of trees were consigned to the flames. The fire department, which had charge of the blaze, divided the trees into three lots as they would have made too big a fire had they all been touched off at once. The Lions kept half a dozen trucks busy during the afternoon, hauling Christmas trees to the park where they were burned. The action not only was a big help to householders in getting rid of the trees but also eliminated the chance of injury to small fry who might have attempted fires on their own. The Lions club is reported planning to make the tree collection an annual event come Twelfth Night. (Marvin Smith photo)

Frank Wesloski, Wesley, Seeks Treasurers' Post

A new candidate for county treasurer in the Republican primary appears in the person of Frank Wesloski, supervisor of Wesley township.

Wesloski has been a Will county farmer all his working life and has been affiliated with farm organizations and 4-H work.

He was graduated from Reed-Custer high school at Braidwood, completing the four-year course in three and held a certificate to teach in the rural schools before he had finished high school.

Wesloski is a conservative and has a reputation as being an honest, conscientious man. He has served on the Will county farm bureau board, the board of the Will County Co-operatives, the non-high school board of Will county, a charter member of the Grundy Grain and Supply Co., at Coal City, the Wilmington swimming pool committee and is a charter member of the Wesley Sportsmen's club of which he is now treasurer.

Elected to Board

Upon graduation from high school, he managed the Wesloski Dairy for 15 years, producing and delivering milk in the Coal City area. He served as Wesley's supervisor from 1951 to 1955 but did not run for re-election because his son was slated to enter military service. When his son returned however, and the Wesley supervisor resigned, Wesloski was appointed to serve out the term and is therefore a member of the present county board. During his four years as supervisor Wesloski was chairman of the county clerk's committee and is presently serving on the veterinary committee.

In announcing his candidacy Wesloski said: "If I am elected to the office of county treasurer, you can expect me to give you the same honest, conscientious attention regardless of race, religion, or color, that I have given to my township, county board, and the many boards with which I have worked. The members of all boards on which I served, I am sure, will admit that not only was I not influenced by others, but that I fought for what I believed was right. I have always believed, and I always will, that elected officials are servants and not masters of the people. I have always lived up to the motto my father taught men when a small boy: 'My word is my bond'." give you my word now."

E. B. Workman Candidate for Probate Clerk

Ellsworth B. (Neb.) Workman, probate clerk of Will county, will be a candidate in the Republican primary next April for re-election to the office.

Workman was formerly an employe of the Elgin, Joliet and Eastern railroad and has been active in civic affairs in Joliet and Will county for many years.

He also is well known in bowling circles, having been one of the organizers and officials of the bowling association set up at Joliet to conduct tournaments and supervise league play.

Workman is affiliated with many clubs and organizations and has taken an active part in various campaigns for charitable purposes. For the past several years he has served as county towns chairman in the Community Chest drive.

In announcing his candidacy Workman pledges continued friendly public service for all persons dealing with his office.

Hartley Seeks Re-Election as County Clerk

Joseph H. Hartley, county clerk of Will county, has announced his candidacy for re-election. He will seek nomination in the Republican primary next April.

Born at York, England, Mr. Hartley came to the United States when he was eight years old. His family came to coal fields of northern Illinois and settled in the vicinity of Diamond, near the southern fringe of Will county.

Later he lived in Braidwood and Torino and was postmaster in the latter Will county town from 1911 to 1920. He left Torino in 1920 and came to Joliet where he has lived since.

For the past 55 years Mr. Hartley has been affiliated with organized labor. He has been delegate, vice president and president of the Will county Central Trades and Labor Council and a past president of the stationary engineers local in Joliet. He has been a member of the United Mine Workers since 1898 and has been active in the formation of Sportsmen's clubs thruout the county.

In announcing his candidacy Mr. Hartley stated that he has endeavored to give the public not only the required service but any additional that should be done to save time and money.

"I am personally proud of the modern, up to date card index system for all birth, death and marriage records that I have put into use," Mr. Hartley said. "We believe it to be one of the best in the state and persons requiring a copy of any such records can now get them in a matter of minutes."

Since he has been county clerk, Hartley said, he has turned in some $235,000 to the county treasurer as excess earnings of his office.

The Methodist church basketball team put down a strong second half rally by the Teen club to win their sixth league game, by a 58-51 score. The victory enabled the Methodist team to take a three game lead over the Nazarene and Catholics who are now tied for second by virtue of the Nazarene win over the Catholics 35-30.

The Methodists jumped off to a 33-19 half time lead, but the Teen club's full court press enabled them to come within four mid-way in the third quarter, Tom Mortenson kept the Teen club in the game by scoring the leagues highest individual total of the year, 30 points. He came within six points of the league sei by his brother, Roy, in 1954.

The Methodist team showed its best balanced scoring of the season with four players hitting double figures. Ken Webster hit for eighteen points to move into second spot in league scoring. Tom Jeffers, league's leading scorer, had 13 points followed by Elmer Gintner with 12 and Hon 10.

The Nazarene and Catholics fought a close game all the way. The score was tied after three quarters with neither team ever holding more than a five point lead. In the final quarter the Nazarene pulled ahead to stay after three minutes to win by a 35-30 score.

Gary Bressi led the Nazarene attack with twelve points and his brother Ron followed with eight. Ron Gallina again paced the Catholic scoring, with 13 points followed by Bob Cupp, 9.

Next week the Nazarene meet the Methodist team at 7:15 p.m. and the Catholics meet the Teen Club at 8:30 p.m.

CUB PACK 253

Cub Scout Pack 253, of Tinley Park, held their Christmas party Pack meeting at Zion Lutheran church Friday night.

The Cubs played a musical gift exchange game and there were grab bags for the boy and girl visitors.

Mrs. William Zimmerman's Den 1 sang carols, accompanied by Tommy Rauch on the accordion.

Den 3, Mrs. Houle Den Mother, depicted the nativity scene with a narration by Ronnie Klos. Billy Robinson and Larry Dober of Den 4 danced a polka with accordion accompaniment by Buddy Smith. Den 5 sang carols as they do it in England, complete with street light. Mrs. Cal Hirsch is den mother.

Mrs. Leland Rayson's Den 6 showed how the children in Mexico get their presents, by busting a gab called a "pin-nata" that is filled with gifts.

Mrs. Harold Peterson's boys sang "O' Christmas Tree, O' Christmas Tree." Den 1 Mrs. Edward Craft, Den Mother, gave their New Year Resolutions.

Ben Deck of Tinley Park is the newly appointed institutional representative of Cub Scout Pack 253. Mr. Deck will coordinate all action between the Pack and the sponsoring institution, the Brotherhood of the Zion Lutheran church.

How much do you know about your body, about things that make you sick? How about medicine that makes you well? Here's a quick test of your medical I.Q. 9 or 10 correct answers: Excellent; 7 or 8 correct: Average; Under 7: Check your pulse.

1. Most disease germs are bacteria, which scientists believe to be one-celled plants. One-celled animals (such as the malaria germ) are called:

☐ Protista ☐ Proteins ☐ Protozoa ☐ Prolegomena

2. Morphine is one of the oldest anesthetics still in use. The natural drug is obtained from:

☐ Wolfbane ☐ Spoiled clover ☐ Oriental poppy ☐ Mandragora root

3. Thanks to modern surgery, certain organs of the body can be removed. Life could not be maintained, however, without the:

4. The Greeks had a word for almost everything, including "calmness untroubled by mental or emotional excitement." A tranquilizer which takes its name from this ancient Greek word is called:

☐ Cycloserine ☐ Atarax ☐ Proquinine ☐ Alphadoria

5. Today's physicians use many complex instruments to determine the condition of various parts of the body. An electrocardiograph is used to study the:

☐ Bone marrow ☐ Mouth ☐ Heart ☐ Lungs

6. Loop-the-loops, roller coasters and even airplane rides may leave heads spinning and stomachs topsy-turvy because the body's organ of balance is disturbed. This organ is located in the:

☐ Stomach ☐ Eye ☐ Chest ☐ Inner ear

7. The structure of the human spine permits us to bend, twist and turn. We get this flexibility because the spine is made up of a column of movable bones, each of which is called a:

☐ Patella ☐ Ulna ☐ Vertebra ☐ Clavicle

8. Many physicians now devote their practice to only one branch of medicine. A specialist in treating children and the diseases of childhood is called a:

☐ Pediatrician ☐ Podiatrist ☐ Orthopedist ☐ Neurologist

9. Is mental health affected by war-time strife? During the Battle of Britain, the reported number of emotional and mental health problems:

☐ Remained unchanged ☐ Increased greatly

☐ Increased slightly ☐ Decreased

10. In 1900, the nation's number 1 killer was pneumonia. But antibiotics and other new drugs have turned mortality tables upside down and today the number 1 killer is:

☐ Traffic accidents ☐ Polio ☐ Heart diseases ☐ Tuberculosis

ANSWERS TO MEDICAL QUIZ
1. Protozoa 2. Oriental poppy 3. Liver 4. Atarax 5. Heart
6. Inner ear 7. Vertebra 8. Pediatrician 9. Decreased 10. Heart diseases

Just A Cough?

A cough may be a nervous mannerism in some people. Too many coughs from the other side of the footlights tell the actor the audience is bored. Some coughs are merely a tickle in the throat.

But a persistent cough — one you can't shake off — may be the sign of something that requires medical attention, such as bronchitis or bronchiectasis.

Bronchitis is an inflammation of the bronchi, the tubes that carry air down to the lungs. Bronchiectasis is a dilation — or stretching — of those airways, often with abscess formation.

Of the two, bronchiectasis is tougher for doctors to treat successfully. In some cases of bronchiectasis, physicians may advise surgical removal of a section of the lung.

Happily, with the advent of modern drugs, doctors have been able to help many patients with antibiotics such as penicillin and streptomycin. Hoping to find a more satisfactory treatment, a British Medical Research Council Committee recently carried on a controlled study of 122 bronchiectasis patients in seven medical centers and reported their findings in the British Medical Journal.

Divided into three groups, all the patients improved as a result of hospital care. Patients who received penicillin fared better than those who received no antibiotics. But the best results were in the third group of patients who were treated with the powerful antibiotic Terramycin. In these patients, fever and infection subsided more quickly, they were confined to bed for shorter periods, and were able to go to work sooner than patients in the other groups.

Such studies, of course, are of immense benefit in the medical profession's battle against stubborn diseases like bronchiectasis. But of equal importance is the patient who takes a persistent cough to the doctor early enough for proper diagnosis and treatment.

First words spoken over the telephone were, "Watson, come here; I want you," spoken by Alexander Graham Bell to his assistant.

Altar-Rosary Society

The members of the St. George Altar and Rosary society held first meeting of the new year, Monday night, Jan. 6, at 8 p.m.

Special entertainment was supplied by three of St. George's talented young people. Beverly and Mary Draves played several selections on the accordion and sax, and Dianne Zawatzki danced and sang. Dianne's numbers included both tap and ballet, and each number had a different costume. The girls' performance was splendid, and all enjoyed it immensely.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Alice Ficker and her committee.

Circle Meetings

The following societies of the Methodist church met Jan. 7. The Martha circle in the home of Mrs. J. Jacobs; the Miriam circle, in the home of Mrs. R. Jensen; the Rebecca circle in the home of Miss Evelyn Brandau and the Ruth circle in the home of Mrs. Leland Rayson.

The Dorcas circle met Jan. 8 in the home of Mrs. N. Mosier the Faith circle in the home of Mrs. H. McLain and the Esther circle in the home of Mrs. Mathilda Steinhagen.

Mrs. Allan Howie will be hostess to the Hope circle in her home this afternoon, Jan. 9.

Winners of awards given by "Your Town Calls" conducted by Mrs. Harriet Naughton and Mrs. Joan Zimmerman, were: for the month of November, Mrs. Arthur Strand, Oak Park ave., a covered casserole and warmer. It was awarded in the Vogt's Shopping Center store. For December, the award given in the office of the Tinley Park Times, went to Mrs. Robert Homerding, a tid-bit tiered tray.

Sympathy is extended to William Houle whose grandfather, Alexander Aye, passed away Friday at the Ogden Park Convalescent home, at the age of 88.

Marie Mason, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Stege, underwent a tonsilectomy Jan. 2 in the Hazel Crest hospital. She is recuperating satisfactorily.

THANK YOU, MR. MERRION

The other day while reading the Chicago Daily News, I came across a shocking photograph of flooded streets that had been left standing in some builder's suburban development. The News had sent a photographer to emphasize the problems of the city traffic department when such neglected properties connected with well-maintained neighborhoods.

How fortunate we are.

Remember when our roads in Unit 1 were layed last summer? Remember the thrill of all the mothers and young children watching the giants pave our roads? The yellow machines, and the red ones. The blue and black ones. Remember the hot nights when the noisy machines would have nothing but the best quality they could give?

Our curved, finished streets are not our only good fortune out here. Mr. Merrion has planned special tree and bush groupings, respectful help from the construction offices when we call for it, and, the finest of all... well-graded village leveling for superior drainage in wet seasons.

Do you know that during that spring flood last year, I was stranded all night in a Chicago Heights grocery store? I couldn't even get home because all the surrounding land and streets had flooded so completely. (Finally at 10 p.m. the store manager sent me over to an employee's home to sleep. Don't worry—I survived.) But the point of the story is this?

The morning following that flood, my husband crept along in our station wagon through community after community that stood hidden in shimmering pools of undrained rainwater. Mile after mile of our trip north from Chicago Heights was nothing but water, water. I became afraid to see our new raw village.

But what a blessing! Dry streets. Dry yards. Dry houses. I was never before nor since so dramatically impressed by the careful planning of our engineers Mr. Merrion has hired. We alone stood free of the water. Thank you, Mr. Merrion, for a community that is worth preserving!

CALENDAR OF EVENTS

SCHOOL BOARD

Come one, come all! Listen to our 3-man board report to us on the past month's work to improve our school conditions. Subjects might include: new cleaning equipment for janitor work, plans for running our own private school bus (saving us thousands of dollars), help for teachers during their lunch hours, and ground maintenance behind temporary upper grade buildings. Come and ask questions. President, Mr. Clarence Beam, SY 8-5581, main school, 184th and Central, 7:30 p.m.

End of Jan.
FIRE ENGINE

Where are you, you gleaming red darling? Haven't heard a peep about delivery date for two weeks. (It's rumored Cub Scouts may get to go to station house in a special meeting and have a lecture and demonstration on the new engine. Wish I were a boy 11 years old!)

Thursday, Jan. 16
PTA OPEN MEETING

Every adult living in district 160 is invited to attend for information on national work of PTA and then sign membership list to submit for official recognition. 8 p.m. Main school, 184th and Central.

Thursday, Jan. 16

HOME OWNERS ASS'N

Elected representatives will have their first business meeting and set order and plans for the year ahead. 8 p.m. at Model house.

Monday, Jan. 20

CITIZENS COMMITTEE

Exciting group of adults who wish to offer their time and talents to better our schools, our properties in and around our village, and any and all projects brought up as helpful to all. Have ideas? Come to Main school, 184th and Central, at 7:30 p.m. President, Bill Marquardsen, SY 8-5593.

Saturday, Jan. 18

TEEN-AGERS' ELECTION

New Teen-Age club, sponsored by citizens committee, will meet in Main school, 184th and Central, at 8 p.m. Dues, 25c. Candidates for office are: President, Mike Krecioch, Joe Brown; vice president, Jim Simmons, Jim Smith; secretary, Peggy Montgomery, Pat White, Oreal Swanson, Jackie Langmeyer; treasurer, Kay Simmons, Mike Miller; parliamentarian, Shirley Younker, Tom White.

Newcomers invited. Social hour until 11 p.m.

Wednesday, Jan. 22

CUB PACK MEETING

Monthly program and celebration by all dens of Cub Scouts. Open to public with exciting performances and exhibitions. Main school, 184th and Central, 7:30 p.m. Call Bill Watkins, SY 8-5464.

Thursday, Jan. 30

MOTHERS' MARCH ON POLIO

One hour only, 7 to 8 p.m. Mrs. Rusty Wilson has been asked to join our village with the nation-wide plan for ladies to walk from door-to-door for personal contributions. Remember to smile when they come! Mrs. Wilson hopes to announce sponsorship of the march by one of our progressive civic groups soon. Our donations will be joined with Tinley Park's due to our postal location. This year research into other diseases may result from our gifts, as announced last week by Mrs. D. Roosevelt and Dr. Salk.

Every Sunday CHURCH SERVICES

All Protestant backgrounds are welcome to the new Country Club Hills Christian church, meeting in the schools at 179th and Thomas. Rev. J. VanBoskirk is organizing pastor. Sunday school classes fill two of the buildings at the 11 a.m. service.

GRINDING GLASS

In our house we have installed a California-designed garbage grinder that is so durable, it grinds glass and teacups into the original form of sand, flushing all of it down the pipe by cold running water. The salesman tells us California has a new law that all new dwellings must include a garbage grinder.

I wish it were a law in Illinois. Trash removal is such a problem out here, and of course our summers are as hot and unsanitary as anyone's. My house may go, I don't care—but I can't live without that magical garbage grinder! The electrician who installed it said not to worry—the grinder will outlast the house by 50 years.

CALLING CONSTRUCTION

Quirks in your house? Holes above your sewers? Water in your driveway? You can call the construction office for help, or at least sound advice, at SY 8-5610.

THEY REALLY STUFFED

Last week we received our first PTA mailing of letter and two explanatory pamphlets. The neighbors who did that stuffing and addressing (what about the licking?) were: Mrs. Doris Tonner, Mrs. Jessie Hein, Don Swanson, Don Schwenk, Mrs. Mary Lou Keyes, Mrs. Jane Wolf, Roger Chavanne, Jim Moore, and the man who composed the friendly letter, Charles Van Horn.

SANTA CLAUS HAS A BABY!

Not quite. But George Hein did have a new grand-daughter, named Donalynn Faye Anderson, born Thursday, Jan. 2. She weighed eight pounds, three ounces and entered by Hazel Crest hospital, on the 9:02. Santa's wife, Jessie, tried to arrange the arrival for her own birthday, Dec. 28—but Donalynn was timid. She made it, though.

ARE YOU WISE IN THE WAYS

This, and many other secret speeches and signs will be learned by the new organizational committee for Cub Scouts that met last Thursday, Jan. 2. Those men and women who laid plans for the coming year of boy projects were: Don Wilson, Stu Heidebreder, Bill Marquardsen, Glenn Thacker, Ray Winters, Bill Watkins, Daniel O'Connell, Doris Watkins, Jane Jones, Phyllis Hoffmann, Millie Berdan, Dorothy Ebert, Jim Ramser, Bob Senacle, Betty Spencer, Emil Van Tichelt.

Looks like the Bobcats are pretty popular, doesn't it?

HOME PRAYERS

The Country Club Hills Christian church has initiated a series of home worship services for any neighbors who request one. By calling the Rev. J. J. VanBoskirk, at BE 8-1341, you may arrange his arrival for a family prayer service with a few of your neighbors and their children. (We had one for Thanksgiving and it was beautiful. The little children sat on his knees while he sang hymns with them and told them religious stories).

If your family duties prevent your attending Sunday morning service, call him and arrange a home service. You will be so happy you did. I know from personal experience.

OUR POETS AGAIN

"Hubby need not know,
You didn't shovel the snow.
For a little dough, we will shovel the snow."

Please call: Peter Morris, SY 8-5473, and Steve Forsgren, SY 8-5609.

Poor men. They've not had much help from the weatherman in their first year of business. Write a ditty about mowing grass, boys?

11 AND UP

Mr. Coleman Keyes called to announce plans for older Boy Scouts, 11 and up, are rolling by now. They have had three adult organizational meetings and are ready to plunge into work with the older boys now. If you'd like to help, call Albert Katz, at SY 8-9550. Volunteers can be totally ignorant of rubbing sticks and looping knots (as my husband was). They are not seeking experience in Scouting—but enthusiasm for work with boys.

BLOOD DONORS

Remember Mrs. Manypenny's plea for helping in returning 600 pints of blood to the hospital that helped her brother. Any adult (who has not had a cold type of blood from any healthy the past month), may be taken at Chicago Heights. If you are virile and noble, call Mrs. Manypenny at SY 8-9426.

Whenever you want to call the Tinley Park Times, call KEI 2-4728.

My current deadline is Sunday night, so try to get phone day and written reports to me before then. The redwood house at the intersection of John and 179th. Call me if you wish: Rusty Wilson, SY 8-5669. Til next week then, MAY YOU FARE WELL.

PTA News

TINLEY PARK UNIT

A panel consisting of Elmer H. Knudsen, mayor of Tinley Park; Harry W. Trevarthen, executive secretary of the Chamber of Commerce; and Mrs. Leland Rayson, a parent; will discuss, "What Are Good School-Community Relations?", at the Tinley Park parent-teacher association meeting Friday, Jan. 10.

Walter Fierke, school superintendent, will act as moderator.

Mrs. Kenneth Crandall will present several selections on the harp.

The meeting to be held at the school will be opened by presentation of colors by Cub Scout pack 272. The Rev. Dallas Mucci, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene, will give the invocation.

The fifth grade mothers will serve refreshments.

President of the PTA is Mrs. Elmer Knudsen. Mrs. Kenneth Schmudde is program chairman.

Legal Notices

AN ORDINANCE AMENDING an ordinance entitled "An ordinance making appropriations for all general corporate purposes, removal and disposal of garbage, bond and interest, street and bridge fund, playground fund and water fund for the fiscal year beginning May 1, 1957 and ending April 30, 1958 of the village of Tinley Park, Cook County, Illinois" passed by the President and Board of Trustees on the 18th day of July, 1957.

Whereas, the President and Board of Trustees did on July 18th 1957 adopt an ordinance entitled:

An ordinance making appropriations for all general corporate purposes, removal and disposal of garbage, bond and interest, street and bridge fund, playground fund and water fund for the fiscal year beginning May 1, 1957 and ending April 30, 1958 of the Village of Tinley Park, Cook County, Ill. and

WHEREAS, subsequent to the adoption of said ordinance there has come to the attention of the Village Board that there are three items for which insufficient sums were appropriated, and

WHEREAS, it is essential to the proper conduct of good government that the Village officials be authorized to expend the necessary funds in these departments.

NOW, Therefore, Be It Ordained by the President and Board of Trustees of the Village of Tinley Park, Cook County, Illinois as follows:

SECTION 1. That an ordinance entitled "An ordinance making Appropriations for all General Corporate Purposes, Removal and Disposal of Garbage, Bond and Interest, Street and Bridge Fund, Playground Fund and Water Fund for the Fiscal Year beginning May 1, 1957 and ending April 30, 1958 of the Village of Tinley Park, Cook County, Illinois" passed July 18th, 1957 be amended as follows:

A. On page one in line seven under General Administration Department, change the amount appropriated for other legal services from $4,000.00 (Four Thousand Dollars) to $5,000.00 (Five Thousand Dollars.)

B. On page one in line eighteen under General Administration Department, change the amount appropriated for publishing legal notices from One Thousand Three hundred ($1,300.00) Dollars to Fifteen Hundred ($1,500.00) Dollars.

C. On page two in line seventeen under Water Department, change the appropriation for purchase of chemicals from Six Hundred ($600.00) to Fifteen Hundred ($1,500.00) Dollars.

SECTION 2. This ordinance shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval as required by law.

PASSED by the President and Board of Trustees of the Village of Tinley Park, Illinois this 6th day of January, A. D. 1958.

TROUBLE IN NEBRASKA

Nebraska is the all-public-power state—and thus is a model for those who seek ultimate socialization of all the electric resources and facilities of this country.

However, public power in Nebraska is having its troubles. Nebraska municipalities, searching for additional tax revenues as are municipalities everywhere, want to impose occupational taxes on the publicly-owned utility districts.

The public-power forces regard this with something akin to horror. At a recent meeting, the Nebraska Rural Electric Labeling the idea "unsound and Association adopted a resolution an attack against the whole idea of public power" and added that the principle of taxing a public power district is contrary to the accepted concept of government.

Well, it could be said that the existence of a public power district is contrary to our American concept of government. It was never intended that our government go into commercial business—which the generation and distribution of electricity plainly is. If that is proper, so tax-free food, clothing, reading is the production and sale of matter or anything else.

Aside from that, the Nebraska controversy points up something else. The burden of taxation is enormous and there is small chance of any marked change for the better. So more and more people are beginning to wonder why socialized business—at any level of government—shouldn't carry its share of the load.

Aliens Must Report Addresses in Jan.

District Director Robert H. Robinson of the Immigration and Naturalization Service stated that the annual alien address report program usually causes a sharp rise in the number of applications for naturalization.

The law requires all aliens in the United States, with few exceptions, to report their address each January. Thruout the United States, almost 30 per cent more applications for naturalization are received during the months of Jan., Feb., and March than are received during other months. Robinson attributes this sudden rise to the Alien Address Report program.

Aliens not required to make this report are diplomats, those accredited to certain international organizations and those who have entered temporarily as agricultural laborers.

Forms for making the reports will be available to aliens at all Post Offices and offices of the Immigration and Naturalization Service during the month of January. Robinson indicated that aliens desiring information concerning naturalization or similar matters should obtain the forms at an office of the Immigration and Naturalization Service where personnel trained in these fields will be available to answer inquiries.

The Vicar Had The Right Answer

Builders of the world's mightiest cathedrals had plenty of construction problems, but none of them could have faced the prospect of their structures being washed away every spring.

Which is exactly what happened at Moose Factory, Ontario, on the fringe of the Canadian Arctic.

For a few years after the small wooden Church of St. Thomas was built on the banks of the broad Moose River, at Moose Factory, Ontario, parishioners grew more and more concerned. And they had good reason to be.

As the ice went out of the river each spring, the swirling waters of the muddy Moose would gently ease the Anglican house of worship off its foundations. Then they would place it down a few yards closer to the north end of town.

Several proposals were made, but only the vicar's was practicable. Instead of fighting the floods, he suggested, why not let them have their way.

At his suggestion, the parishioners bored holes in the floor, then waited for next spring. Sure enough, the flood-waters came. But instead of sweeping away the church, they flowed quietly in through the holes—then flowed out again as the river subsided.

The parishioners checked. The church had not moved an inch.

Though the Moose does not flood as much as before, tourists coming over by canoe from the rail terminus at nearby Moosonee, from where there is direct connection with the Canadian National transcontinental lines at Cochrane and North Bay, pause to talk about the holes in the floor of St. Thomas's. Wooden plugs now keep out the winter cold.

Not only the holes in the floor attract the visitor to the Moose Factory church. Many are charmed by the altar drapes of moosehide, beaded with the painstaking care of Indian craftsmen. The pulpit and lectern are similarly adorned.

Photos Courtesy Canadian National Railways

U. S. visitor to St. Thomas's Anglican Church, shown at top, in sub-Arctic Moose Factory, Ontario, Canada, examines wooden plug from one of numerous holes in the church floor. Parishioners bored the holes years ago when floodwaters from nearby Moose River moved the building bodily every spring. After that, the water merely flowed in and out of the church through the holes, leaving its position undisturbed. FNS

An Unusual Man and His Strange Car-Forerunner of the Automobile

JOHN W. ALLEN
(Southern Illinois University)

Southern Illinois has furnished its full share of unusual and interesting men. On a list of such persons the name of James Semple, of Scotch parentage and from one of Scotland's prominent families, would occur. Semple was born in Greene county, Kentucky in 1798 and grew to manhood in that state.

Young Semple's opportunities for an education were meagre. He was fortunate in one thing, however, his uncle who served as his tutor was a graduate of Princeton and capably guided the youth's educational efforts. At sixteen years of age Semple enlisted in the Kentucky militia and served under General Jackson in the closing months of the second war with Britain. He became the ensign in his company and was entrusted with important work.

In 1819 he married and moved to Chariton, Missouri where he engaged in business and carried on an intensive study of law; writing to his mother that he had a law library of 130 volumes, quite a large one for a law student to have. It was while here that he freed the one slave given him as an inheritance; stating on the freedom papers—"This is the only slave I ever owned or ever will own."

Mules Replace Steam

After a few years in Missouri Semple moved to Madison county, Illinois. Here he was elected to the lower house of the Illinois legislature in 1833 and served six terms; three of them as speaker of the house. As speaker of the house he apparently used his full powers to promote the system of internal improvements so popular at that time. He was influential in bringing two locomotives from New York by sea and river to Meredosia, Illinois for use on the Meredosia-Springfield road about 1843. These two locomotives, several hundred miles from shops equipped to properly care for them, and with repair help about that of the good country blacksmith soon fell into a bad state of repair and soon were replaced with mules.

Four of the mules often were hitched in tandem and walked the center path between the rails. One of the locomotives discarded was given to Semple, then serving as United States senator from Illinois to be used for experimental purposes.

Never short on ideas, Semple decided on a bold new course. He would devise a train that could use such existing highways as there were, or even could take out across the unfenced prairies. He accordingly brought the locomotive he had been given to his place at Alton and began the construction of one of the queerest of transportation devices.

Adapting the locomotive to his purposes, he arranged gears that would drive the back wheels of a huge wagon-like prairie schooner. To keep his "car" from miring in marshy places he equipped it with wheels about six feet in diameter and having treads three feet wide. Traction was improved by bolting sections of plank across the rims or tires of these large wheels. This equipment was completed and ready for trial in the late summer of 1847. It had attracted wide attention. A reporter from the Boston Courier, J. H. Buckingham, came to write about it. Though he did not see the car and did not await its trial, he poked ridicule at it. The Alton Telegraph defended and insisted that condemnation could come only after thoro trials. Semple himself held high hopes of success: writing to a friend in the summer of 1847—"If my car succeeds I can float along, if not I go to Oregon in 1847."

Had Advanced Ideas

In September all was in readiness and Semple's land craft, with much clashing, hissing, clanging and rattle rolled out of his shed at Semple Town between Alton and Upper Alton and began its trip to Springfield. The first part of its course lay over the plank road to Edwardsville. The reception of Semple's "car" was divided; delegations from some villages even asking him to take it around the town instead of thru it. Progress, though slow and noisy, and requiring frequent stops for adjustments, appears to have been fairly satisfactory until it started cross-prairie from Carlinville on the last leg of its journey to Springfield. A short way south of Springfield a fatal mishap came when one of the wheels dropped into a hole and an axle was broken. Taking stock of all the difficulties he had encountered, Semple abandoned the car there, where it stood for many years and rusted away. Many would look at it and call it Semple's Folly.

Despite its failure of success, Semple's contrivance embodied many new ideas, some far in advance of the times. The science of cutting and arranging gears, and the internal combustion engine lay years ahead, likewise the ideas of Semple were much in advance of his times.

"Nowadays the hand that rocks the cradle usually gets a dollar an hour."

Mosquito District Trustees Change Time of Meetings

The board of trustees of the South Cook County Mosquito Abatement District announced a change in meeting time for its regular monthly board meeting this week thru Henry S. Dybas, Homewood, president of the board:

"In accord with our responsibility to the people of the South Cook County Mosquito Abatement District to keep them advised of our work," Dybas said, "as their representatives, we announce a change in time of our regular monthly board meetings from 5:30 p.m. on the second Monday of each month to 7:30 p.m. on the same day. These are open public meetings. They are held in the District's headquarters, 155th and Dixie highway."

"In making this announcement, the board would like to acknowledge its thanks to the newspapers serving South Cook County. Without their cooperation it would be impossible to keep the District's residents adequately informed."

Deputized to Aid Alcohol Victims Thru Work of A.A.

There are two groups of Alcoholics Anonymous in Tinley Park, whose members stand ready to assist anyone willing to be helped.

A local man has volunteered to be on 24-hour call, any time of the day or night, to help anyone in need of his services.

He has been deputized by Police Chief Harold C. Moore, and given the proper credentials to work with the police department.

Anyone wishing to obtain information or enlist the aid of Alcoholics Anonymous, may do so by calling the local police department at Kellogg 2-4303.

Stadium was originally a Greek measure of length, approximately 600 feet.

Louis Bottino To Run Again For Assembly

Louis Bottino, Route 2, Lockport, announces his candidacy for representative in the general assembly in the April 8 Republican Primary election.

Mr. Bottino is completing his first term in the legislature where newsmen rated him one of the outstanding freshman legislators of the seventh general assembly.

Prior to his election to the Legislature, Mr. Bottino served as high school principal, teacher, and coach at Braidwood, Illinois for nine years, Will County Superintendent of school for thirteen years, and superintendent of the Lockport Township High School for four years.

In addition to his legislative work, Mr. Bottino is now serving as administrative assistant to the superintendent of the Joliet public schools.

Active in Community

Mr. Bottino has been active in community affairs as well as in organizations relating to his profession. He is a past president of the Illinois County Superintendents' Association, the Northeastern Division of the Illinois Education Association, the board of directors of the Joliet Y. M. C. A., the Joliet and Braidwood Rotary clubs, and the Phi Kappa Psi fraternity at Beloit college.

Mr. Bottino gained considerable recognition in sports in college and later as a coach at Braidwood. He was twice named to all-conference teams in basketball and coached the first district tournament team ever to reach the Illinois state finals in basketball.

For his work in civic activities and in behalf of children and youth the Joliet Junior Chamber of Commerce honored Mr. Bottino by conferring upon him both the "Distinguished Service" and "Good Government" awards.

Served in Marines

Mr. Bottino served for thirty-seven months in World War 11 having enlisted as a private and risen to his present rank of Captain in the U. S. Marine Corps Reserve.

In the legislature Mr. Bottino interested himself in all phases of legislation. He was a member of the Appropriations, Education, Municipalities and Revenue Committees in the Seventieth General Assembly.

His broad background of training and experience in public school work served him to advantage during the past legislative session where over 11 per cent of all bills introduced were related to the public schools.

Mr. Bottino is chairman of the state committee to study all phases of the office of County superintendent of schools and is also a member of the state commission to visit educational institutions.

Mr. Bottino is married to the former Catherine Jongsma. They have a daughter, Ilse Marie. He was born in South Wilmington, on May 2, 1907. He and his family have been lifelong residents of the coal fields area and of Joliet and Lockport in Will and Grundy counties.

POKAGON TRAILS

Boy Scout instructional swimming classes for passing first class swimming requirements, merit badge, life saving merit badge, and the swimming portion of the athletic merit badge will be held at Thornton township high school pool in Harvey beginning Saturday morning, Jan. 11.

Classes will be eight Saturdays through March 8 for Boy Scouts and Explorers of Potawatomi district who have attained second class rank or higher. Tenderfoot Scouts will not be admitted.

Frank Bauman of Thornton township high school faculty will conduct the instructional swimming program. Explorers, Scout leaders, and other with life saving merit badge or recognized instructor's certificate will assist.

Registration will be at 8:30 a.m. the first Saturday. Instruction will be from 9 to 9:50 for swimming merit badge and from 10 to 10:50 for first class and life saving.

Fee will be $4 per Scout. Scouts who pass swimming requirements the first day will be charged 50 cents and refunded the balance of the fee. Each Scout is to supply his own trunks and towel.

Joe Arnston of Harvey, chairman of the Potawatomi district health and safety committee, said that to make maximum use of the pool the beginners' group will be divided on the basis of ability at the time of registration.

State to Spend $240 Million on Road Program

Details of Illinois' 1958 primary highway improvement program, involving an expenditure of $270,400,000, have been outlined by Gov. William G. Stratton. The 1958 program will be the greatest in the state's road construction history.

Gov. Stratton said $161,000,000 will be for construction and right-of-way acquisition projects on the interstate system of highways and $109,300,000 for improvements on other primary highways. Of the total expenditure, $185,700,000 represents federal aid allotments to the state under President Eisenhower's national highway construction program as large as the one planned for 1958, allowance must be made for numerous factors affecting the various jobs which make absolute certainty in the time of execution an impossibility of cause deferment of some of the projects.

Gov. Stratton said that this year's interstate highway improvement program of $161,100,000 would continue construction of the system of multi-laned divided highways incorporating all the features of modern expressways. He also said that the sections of interstate highways listed for construction had been selected in such a manner that

New Homer School Put Into Operation Jan. 6

Monday, Jan. 6, not only signaled the resumption of classes for youngsters of District 33-C in Homer township after the Christmas holidays but it also marked the opening of the new building that takes the place of five schools.

The new building, an eight room structure, was built as a result of a consolidation move embracing five districts. Five of the rooms have been put to use to accommodate the 125 pupils comprising the enrollment so their is room for a growth.

The new district also has its own buses. All consolidated and unit school districts are required by law to furnish transportation for pupils; other districts need not provide such service. District 33-C is a consolidated district.

The new school is located on Homer road, near State route 7.

Mrs. Honora Lahman, who taught at Goodings Grove school for many years, is principal of the new school.

Goodings Grove, Ross school, where Evelyn DePra was the teacher; Hadley, where Gladys Jensen taught; Barnett with Mary Katherine Baltz the teacher and Wells Corner with Mrs. Pearl Rodgers as teacher were the schools involved in the consolidation. All the teachers are now employed at the new school.

The schools closed thru the consolidation have served their communities for many years. Hadley school is perhaps the oldest, having been in operation for more than a century. An addition was built there five years ago.

Members of the school board are, Russell Lauffer, president; Raymond Carlson, secretary; Joyce Pundy, Merritt Cagwin, Owen Ott, Everett Holm and Robert Burch. Jerome Paddock is district treasurer.

they could be used in conjunction with existing highways while the remainder of the interstate system is being built.

CARL J. BORMET—In loving memory of our husband, father and grandfather who passed away 20 years ago, Jan. 6, 1938. What would we give his hand to clasp.

His patient face to see,

To hear his voice, to see his smile

As in the days that used to be.

But some sweet day we'll meet again

Beyond the toil and strife,

And clasp each other's hand

once more

At home in heaven, together again.

ST. JOHN'S—

The cemetery board operates separately from the church. It has its own special state charter which provides that members of the board must be elected by the congregation of the church and must own a lot in the cemetery.

WATER RATES—

The village board adjusted the bills of Newton and Heiman and ruled that the bills of all outside customers be corrected. Trustees Charles Hostert, Ray Westlund and Willard Munch were named by Mayor James Marti to serve as a committee to handle complaints concerning water.

The board also voted to set aside $5,000 from revenues to apply on the first year's principal and interest on the $100,000 general obligation bonds voted for partial payment of the proposed sewage treatment plant and sewer system. General obligation bonds are retired thru a general tax. To have money available it will be necessary to levy a tax this year.

The principal and interest due on the G.O. bonds the first year is set at $14,000. By setting aside $5,000 from other revenues it will be necessary to raise but $9,000 thru taxes the first year. The payments will be less in succeeding years.

The motion to use extra funds in this manner was made by Trustee Lyman Teague and was approved by the other board members. Later on, when the sewer and water revenue bonds are issued to complete the payment of the sewer system, the money collected thru the sale of water will be used to retire them.

Persons who notice street lights that are not burning are advised by the village board to call the Public Service Co., and not board members, using the Enterprise number, 4100, which is a free call as far as the caller is concerned.

The police committee is to confer with Justice of the Peace August Werner, to suggest the setting up of a schedule of fines, particularly in traffic cases, so they are about the same as imposed in surrounding communities.

NEW LENOX LIONS—

The committee is keeping its collective fingers crossed against a thaw or snow, especially a wet snow that would leave the ice surface rough.

John Hauk is chairman of the committee in charge of the meet. Other members are Glenn Valy and George Valy.

Expect 50 Entries

Dimension of the course on which the events are held will depend upon the condition of the ice.

The meet is open to all residents of New Lenox township, with events planned for seniors as well as juniors.

Those in charge expect some 50 entries in all the events and anticipate some 300 spectators. Medals will be awarded to winners in the junior events while trophies will be awarded winners of the two senior classes.

The program of events includes:

Class E—boys and girls, 6 years old and under.

Class D—boys and girls, 7 to 9 years old.

Class C—boys and girls, 10 to 13 years old.

Class B—boys and girls 14 to 18 years old.

Class A—boys and girls 19 years and older.

There will also be a special event for figure skaters.

In the event weather conditions should require a postponement of the meet, it will be held the following Sunday, Jan. 19, the committee announced.

C. L. Klasing, Jr., president of the New Lenox Lions.

1957 CORN CROP HARVEST REPORT

(Based on estimates from DeKalb's Crop and Weather Observers)

The best corn prospects this year are in the Western Corn Belt where Nebraska and Iowa have much higher yields than last year. Northern Illinois has an excellent crop, but south and east from there, wet weather delayed planting and hurt yields. New York has one of its best crops in several years. The East Coast was hurt by a prolonged summer drouth and Illinois, Minnesota and Indiana river bottoms had much drowned out corn.

Phone Company Would Extend Orland Service

Illinois Bell Telephone company has submitted a request to the Illinois Commerce Commission for a plan to provide wider toll free calling for about 300 Orland Park telephone customers having rural type service.

Under the proposed plan, these customers would be able to make calls without paying toll charges to phones in Blue Island, Lemont, Lockport and Mokena, in addition to other Orland Park telephones and phones in Tinley Park and Palos Park.

The new service would eliminate present toll charges of 15c to Blue Island and Lockport, and 10c to Lemont and Mokena, on calls of five minutes or less, with added charges for longer conversations. Basic rates for Orland Park rural service customers would be increased 25c per month under the proposed plan.

If the company's plan is approved, these customers will have almost 22,000 telephones added to their "local calling area."

In December, 1956, the Illinois commerce commission approved an "extended area" calling plan for several southwest suburban communities. As part of this plan, about 110 Orland Park customers with metropolitan-type service will have their local calling area enlarged to include Lockport phones, without increase in their basic monthly telephone rates. This plan is expected to go into effect sometime next spring.

Only Urban Orland Park customers with local area service will be unaffected by the two new calling plans. These customers, if they wish wider calling privileges, will have the option of switching to the metropolitan type service.

Amvets Sponsor Talent Show at Lincoln-Way

A talent show, under the auspices of the Mokena Amvets, with the assistance of the VFW and American Legion posts in the Lincoln-Way high school district is to be staged in the school's new auditorium, Feb. 23.

Auditions are to be held at the school on Sunday, Feb. 16, between the hours of 2 and 5 o'clock. Auditions are open to all youths in the district from grammar school age to high school, whether they attend public or parochial institutions.

The Legion posts at Frankfort and Manhattan and the Veterans of Foreign Wars of Mokena and New Lenox will work with the Amvets in making the show a success.

Anthony Dina, of Mokena, Amvet commander, is in charge and the young people who want to try out for the show are asked to register in advance so they can be assigned a time for their audition and thus eliminate the necessity of sitting around to await their turns.

Anyone who would try out is asked to send a post card to Commander Dina, giving his or her name, address and telephone number, and what he can do. Persons who want to talk with Mr. Dina can telephone him at Mokena 4171.

Proceeds from the performance will be used to provide the Lincoln-Way band with a set of colors.

6 and 7 Restaurant Gets Approval of Duncan Hines

The 6 and 7 Restaurant has received national recognition in the new 1958 edition of Duncan Hines' "Adventures in Good Eating," just off the press.

It is the only restaurant in Orland Park and among 3,000 selected eating places in North America recommended by Duncan Hines.

According to the publisher, the Duncan Hines Institute, Ithaca, N. Y., this is the 50th printing for this 352 page travel guide book used by millions of Americans for nearly a quarter of a century.

Chester, common ending for English town names, comes from the Roman word castra meaning camp, since many were originally Roman camp sites.

WHAT'S NEW?—The answer is everything but the children themselves. This picture was taken Monday at the new Homer township consolidated grade school which takes the place of five former districts. The school was completed over the holidays and last week was devoted to moving in the furniture and furnishings, including five pianos. Monday, Jan. 6, saw the moving in of the pupils and the teachers. The youngsters are transported to and from school by bus.

Tax Information -“Live”-Will be On Tap Jan. 20

(CNS) The taxpayer's assistance program of the internal revenue service for the 1957 income tax collections opened Thursday, Jan. 2, 1958, with establishment of a “pool” of 11 eleven women and one man to answer telephone questions at 22 West Madison st. The number is DEarborn 2-4500, and they are open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Meanwhile, opening of the “person-to-person” assistance program at the U.S. Courthouse and various district offices in Chicago and suburbs, which are listed in the telephone books, was postponed an additional week this year, to Jan. 20. Last year, this phase had begun three weeks earlier, on Jan. 2.

The change, according to Jay G. Philpatt, assistant district director, is all part of a program of shifting the kinds of help around to do the most good at the least cost to the government. Experience has shown that most taxpayers who have questions about filling out their returns can be answered on the telephone, at times saving to themselves and the government. The emphasis in recent years is on “self-help”, with the government doing the minimum in filling out the return.

About half of the 2,750,000 blank returns in the 26 counties or northern Illinois have been delivered by the post office since Dec. 27, according to a check made by Philpatt Thursday.

Normally, the government researchers have found, there is a small rush early in January on receipt of the returns, from people who want early refunds, and these who must file something Jan. 15, but the bulk comes around Jan. 31, when employees' W-2 forms are distributed by employers, as they mail the original to the Internal Revenue Service, and again during the last month before the deadline of April 15.

“We are just trying to employ our manpower to the best use in meeting those peaks,” said Mr. Philpatt.

GAS LEAKS

The gas lines or connections in your home may spring a leak. If so, there is immediate danger of an explosion. The Institute for Safer Living says, if you should smell gas: First, turn off emergency switch to the oil burner in basement. Do not enter the cellar under any conditions. Throw open all windows and doors. Call the police or gas company for assistance.

Read Luke 22:39-46.
He . . . knelt down, and prayed. (Luke 22:41.)

Birmingham, Alabama, has two contrasting statues. One is a huge iron man called Vulcan.
It stands atop Red Mountain overlooking the city. Vulcan represents industry.

In a small park near the heart of the city is the other statue. It is a small marble statue. It represents a certain Presbyterian minister, with upturned face, kneeling in prayer.
For at least half a century he was known in Birmingham as "Brother Bryan". He played with people wherever he found them:
in homes, hospitals, jails, and even on busy sidewalks.

He was not a great preacher, but he was a great soul. He was everyone's pastor and friend.

Everyone passing thru Birmingham sees Vulcan. He is big, impressive, and stands atop a mountain. But only those who look closely see the statue of "Brother Bryan" on his knees.
But he is much nearer the heart of the city.

PRAYER

Help us, our Father, to remember that Jesus said, "Whosoever . . . shall humble himself as this little child, the same is greatest in the Kingdom of heaven." Teach us the way of humility. In the spirit of Christ we pray. Amen.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

The vital importance of following the example of the Master, Christ Jesus, in our thoughts and actions will be emphasized
Sunday, January 12, at Christian Science services.

Keynoting the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Sacrament" is the Golden Text from I Corinthians (5:8): "Let us keep the feast, not with old leaven, neither with the leaven of malice and wickedness; but with the unleavened bread of sincerity and truth."

Selections to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker
Eddy include the following (37:22-25): "It is possible,—yea, it is the duty and privilege of every child, man, and woman, —to follow in some degree the example of the Master by the demonstration of Truth and Life, of health and holiness."

From the Bible will be read the following (Mark 16:15):
"And he said unto them, Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature."

Presbyterians Sign Petition For Charter

The Presbyterian church of Tinley Park is in the process of obtaining signatures on a petition to charter the church. Many have already signed and when all who wish to become members of the church have signed the petition, it will be sent to the Board of Church Extension.
When it is approved by the Presbytery, a special service of chartering will be held to officially establish the church.

The ev. Walter J. Damer, pastor, extends an invitation to all who would like to attend the services, held at 11 a.m. each Sunday. All services and meetings are presently being held in the manse.

The 1958 budget has been approved and a number of pledges to the budget have been made.

Many have worked to bring additional items into the functioning of the church.

The garage of the manse has been transformed into a "green room" for church school, dinners, and meetings. Church services are being held in the recreation room.

Signs have been posted on the church property. Partitions have been installed for classrooms. A parking lot is now being constructed. Other contributions to the church have been made.

Form Woman's Association

In order to establish a Woman's association as set up by the women of the Presbyterian church, a meeting is being held at 7:30 tonight.

The men of the church met last Sunday evening for the first of informal monthly meetings to discuss Christianity and its relationship to daily living. Two commission meetings also were held.

To enable young people of the church to become chartered members of the church, there will be a Communicants class every Saturday at 11 a.m. beginning Jan. 11. This will be for all boys and girls from school grade six and up.

The Palos Park Presbyterian church generously donated $100 to the local church to assist in purchasing office equipment.

Junior choir rehearsal is being held at 10 a.m. on Saturdays. This is for all primary and junior boys and girls. The choir will sing in the church on Youth Fellowship Sunday, Jan. 26.

The church school staff will meet at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Jan.
16.

Those present were Shirley Kaehler, Nancy Delaney, Carol Tyler, Susan ZumMallen, Carol Jones, Patty Bolsie, Gloria Kubeck, Linda Hatz and Helen's grandmother, Mrs. Valentine. Helen received many lovely gifts.

HOW TO PRODUCE A SLUMP

Sylvia Porter, the popular syndicated writer on business and financial affairs, tells of a letter she received from a reader who signed herself "simple housewife". This reader, angry at today's high prices, wanted Miss Porter to advocate what amounts to a buyer's strike. As she put it: "Please tell our people to ask prices and pointedly to refuse to buy too highly priced items, no matter how badly they seem to be needed—Let's stop buying—until merchants are forced to reason."

Miss Porter's reply to that proposal begins with a one-word paragraph—"Well!"—and consists of an unequivocal and forceful NO. There is, she says, only one stimulant which can prevent a business slump of some dimension, and that is continued strong buying by America's consumers. She continues: "If we, America's consumers, pull back now—if we go in for massive resistance to buying any food, clothing, furniture, appliances, etc., etc., we don't absolutely need—we'll turn today's slowdown into a slump in a matter of weeks."

"If we follow my neighbor's urging and 'stop buying—until merchants are forced to reason,' we'll send joblessness skyrocketing, we'll create a general crash." And that isn't all, as she also makes clear. For a big slump would inevitably cause the government to go into pump priming on a huge scale—and then we'd be set for runaway inflation.

The merchants didn't create inflation and high prices—they, like the rest of us, are among the victims. Their profits are generally moderate. And competition forces them to sell at the lowest possible prices.

Miss Porter advises us to shop carefully, look for bargains and cold-shoulder any profiteers we may find. That's only sensible. But a buyer's strike would amount to cutting off the nose to spite the face.

FARM NEWS

For Cook County
by

Four H members like to serve their club, community and County 4H programs. This was re-emphasized recently when the Key award winners in the county met. They decided to organize, and as a group work with the county extension personnel to provide leadership and assistance with various phases of the county 4H program. Ronald Kollman, Harvey, arranged the meeting. He is one of the district directors of the Statewide Key organization. The group elected Audrey Gronert, Arlington Heights, and Wesley Plote, Palatine, as co-chairmen. Julia Gray, Palos Heights was elected secretary. Other Key Award winners in Southern Cook County are: Joe Mulderink, Blue Island; Bill Lorenz, Chicago Heights; Audrey Mascitti, Steger, and C. L. Mast, Jr., Flossmoor.

This group can furnish valuable assistance to the county 4H program. They are to be commended for their efforts. Their goals are Junior Leadership training and recruiting, and attention to the needs of first year club members.

All local 4H club officers are invited to attend the annual Best way to get full value out training school January 14, 7:00 p.m. at the Tinley Park Farm Bureau building. The 4H Federation has arranged an interesting program.

Vegetable growers will want to mark Jan. 16 on their calendars. This is the date of the vegetable school in South Holland, at the village hall. The program has been completely revised and shortened to one day. It will start at 10 a.m. Please note the new starting time. Topics of current interest in the field. Don't miss this information packed event.

Farmers who want to take advantage of the new "bid" type conservation reserve program have until Jan. 31 to do so. Drop in at the ASC office in the Farm Bureau building for further details. Under this program you may be able to retire all eligible crop land on your farm. You select the acre payment you will accept and the USDA will consider your offer. The contracts run for 5 and 10 year periods.

of wet corn is to feed it to livestock. Soft corn stored in cribs is equal in feeding value to mature corn for beef cattle and hogs.

However, daily gains on wet corn are usually less because its greater bulk fills the animals before they have eaten as much total feed on a dry matter basis, Walker says. To prevent excess spoilage, wet corn stored in conventional or temporary cribs or piled on the ground must be fed before spring.

Extension entomologists at the University of Illinois recommend that rotenone be used to control lice on cows. All animals in the herd may be sprayed with a solution made up of one pound of five percent rotenone powder in 100 gallons of water. Apply two gallons of this spray per cow. Most effective results will be obtained with two treatments at 14-day intervals.

A liberal application of 0.5 to 1.0 percent rotenone dust will also be effective in controlling lice. Two treatments at 14-day intervals are also necessary for best control of cattle lice when the dust is used.

Skating Party

St. Michael's Glee club will entertain the ladies of St. Michael's Altar and Rosary society with several lovely songs when the society meets Tuesday, Jan. 14, in the auditorium, at 8 p. m.

During the business meeting, C. Bedzek, Mrs. D. Kohl, and tickets will be distributed for the skating party to be held Saturday, Jan. 25. The skating party is another effort to help the school fund, taking the place of the pyramid parties. Each ticket entitles the owner to an enjoyable evening of skating and refreshments. It is hoped all members will cooperate to make this a successful event, since the pyramid parties have been discontinued.

Following St. Michael's Glee club program, refreshments will be served by: Mrs. E. McCarthy, Mrs. S. Bukowski, Mrs. C. Bedzek, Mrs. D. Kohl, and Mrs. J. Lohmann.

Mr. and Mrs. William Burkhardt and daughters, Jill and Lillie Ann of Mokena, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Driscoll of Lockport and Linda Irene Bivens of Lemont, were New Year dinner guests of Mrs. Sherman Knox.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ahlrep and daughter Ann were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Coakley of Oak Park. Mrs. Coakley, the former Charlene Ahlrep is a sister to Richard, and resided in Orland prior to her marriage.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Heiting were New Year dinner guests of her sister, Mrs. Jack Ivers in Chicago. Brothers and sisters and their families in Chicago were also guests.

American Legion Auxiliary, 526, will meet in the home of Mrs. Christina Horn, Friday, Jan. 10 at 8 p. m. Members are urged to attend. Lillian Knox has contributed to the department's rehabilitation program.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sayers, Mrs. Harvey Cooper and Mrs. Elmer Newton, committee in charge of the Cheer boxes for shut ins for the adult bible class of Orland Park Methodist church, report that 20 boxes were prepared and delivered before Christmas. They wish to express their thanks to all who aided this program, as it has made so many shut ins very happy.

Lt. Karl Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sigmund Smith of 108th ave., who has recently been commissioned as an officer in the marine corps, has just returned to Quantico, Va., after a 22 day holiday furlough.

Lt. Smith is a graduate of Orland Park high school, Illinois State Normal university and was a graduate student at John Marshall law school before his enlistment.

Mrs. Karl Ekberg entertained 17 relatives and friends of Mr. Ivar Benson, at dinner and supper Sunday.

Mrs. Erwin J. Uhrhammer and family of Miford, and Mr. Uhrhammer's brother, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Uhrhammer of Chicago.

Paper Drive

Cub Scout Pack 41 of Lincolnwood will have a waste paper drive Saturday, Jan. 11, starting at 9 a. m.

Anyone have paper or magazines not bundled, are asked to please call Ed. Woodcock at 8438 or Vernon Newsome at 5223, and they will pick them up.

Tied bundles can be placed in your driveways for pick-up during the day.

Cub Scout, den 1, of pack 41, met recently with their new den mother, Mrs. Irene Cortright. Mrs. Maenell Newsome assisted. Plans were made for a skit, for the Pack meeting to be held Friday night, Jan. 17 in the Schmuhl school. The skit will be in keeping with their theme for the month "Movie Making."

WORTH SAVING

Nearly one third of the nation's 55 million private residences are in need of some repair and maintenance it is claimed. Oftentimes a coat of paint will add hundreds of dollars of value to a home, and years of life.

Older homes can be remodeled and modernized to greatly increase the value. Frame homes lend themselves the easiest to enlarging and modernizing because wood can be worked so easily, the lumbermen point out.

WORLD CHAMPION

For most structural uses, like beams, columns and trusses, wood is considered stronger pound for pound than structural steel. Among the strongest commercial woods for their weight which are produced in this country, Douglas fir, west coast hemlock and Sitka spruce rate well up the scale.

IT'S A PROUD MOMENT—for 4-year old Russell Tobeck, when he opens an account at the Tinley Park Savings and Loan on official opening day last Thursday. Russell's savings, a total of $68, fills one candy jar and tin. Assuring himself a good start to a college education, he relinquishes his life's savings to manager, Ray Fritch. His proud parents, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Tobeck, 6844 - 171st st., fondly look on as their son turns over the candy jar filled with pennies and tin full of nickels and dimes.

Chicago's Museum of Science and Industry Has Two Million Visitors

CHICAGO MUSEUM 2-24 SHRD L CMFW ETAOINSHRD
Chicago's Museum of Science and Industry, for years a leader among the world's great museums in visitor attendance, was host to 2,366,681 guests during 1957, an increase of more than five per cent over the preceding year.

Indicative of its widespread popularity with students, tourists, vacationists and travelers from other parts of the country and abroad, its 1957 guest book included 7,154 organized tour parties of which more than a hundred came from foreign countries.

Included among these organized pilgrimages from outside Illinois were groups of all ages and interests, from top level leaders in government, science, industry and education to grade school and high school delegations. Many of these school groups journeyed to the Museum by school bus from communities as far east as Western New York state and as far as Colorado.

A one-day study last August of all visitors entering the museum gave convincing proof of the widespread character of its annual audiences. To learn where its visitors came from the Museum's staff individually questioned 7,343 of them in a single day.

This one day's sampling showed natives of 790 cities, towns and village in 45 of our own 48 states and also 141 travelers from 47 communities in 24 foreign countries. Of all those interviewed 57.6 per cent were from points outside the Chicago metropolitan area; and 42.4 per cent from the city and suburbs.

In a review of the Museum's annual report which was compiled by Daniel M. MacMaster, its director, Major Lenox R. Lohr, the Museum's president, attributed much of the Museum's popularity among all types of people to the greatly expanded public interest in the physical sciences and its technological applications during 1957.

"Whether we talk about Sputnik or not, the fact is that as people of all ages, and particularly our teen-agers, have become more concerned about such things as space travel, adaptations of atomic energy for industry, and greater emphasis on technical education, our own exhibits have drawn a steadily increasing number of visitors. Equally indicative of the times, visitors are spending more time studying our various displays", he said, reporting that the average person inspecting the various exhibits now remains in the Museum more than three hours.

Law On The Farm

By JAMES J. ELSON
(Member of the Illinois Bar)
TAXES ON TRADE-INS

The present Sales Tax Act exempts the value of trade-ins from taxation, but the Use Tax Act does not. To avoid lack of uniformity between the two taxes, the Illinois Dept. of Revenue has ruled that the use tax is to be applied to the value of all trade-ins. The net effect is that the use tax overrules the exemption in the Sales Tax Act and a 2½ per cent state tax is levied on the entire purchase price—cash plus trade-in value.

The failure to exempt trade-ins from taxation provides an additional source of revenue since it is possible for one item of property to be involved in several taxable transactions. For example, a farmer who buys a new tractor for $2,500 pays a sales tax levied on the entire amount. When this tractor is traded in on a new tractor a few years later, the dealer places a value on the trade-in and the farmer pays the cash difference. The trade-in value is taxed under the use tax and the cash difference is taxable under the sales tax. Then a third taxable transaction will occur when the tractor is resold at retail by the dealer.

The 1957 Illinois General Assembly acted to resolve the problem by passing two acts that would have exempted the value of trade-ins from the use tax. These acts failed to become law because of the governor's veto. The vetoes were based on constitutionality considerations.

Possibilities for relief from tax on trade-ins seem to be bleak. From the legal standpoint, exempting trade-ins from the use tax to make that tax consistent with the sales tax, in the opinion of many, would jeopardize the constitutionality of the use tax. The Illinois Constitution requires taxes of this nature to be uniform and it is argued that discriminating between purchasers with trade-ins and those without would violate the uniformity requirement. From a practical standpoint, the Dept. of Revenue does not wish to lose the additional funds the state derives from taxing the multiple transactions under the present law and regulations.

MAURICE P. ANGLAND

In the Jan. 3 issue of U. S. News & World Report, this magazine makes a rather comprehensive survey of what we may expect in 1958.

Feature article of this issue, is an extensive interview with Murray Shields, one of the country's leading economic consultants. Mr. Shields believes that the present period offers investment opportunities that may not be seen again. In this column, we have pointed out that this country has been at war since the beginning of World War II altho much of the time without shooting. He points out that "while militarily the situation is one of cold and uneasy peace with the Communists, the economic condition is one of white-hot war." He goes on to say, "Furthermore, I am convinced that, if we decide to wage all out economic war with the Communists, the chances of military conflict will be minimized, and the chance of even a modest recession in 1958 would be eliminated altogether." He, as well as other able economists, point out that an economic recession in this country, with resultant unemployment and political repercussions might very well lose us a considerable portion of the gains we have painfully achieved thru economic assistance and hard work in strategic areas of the world. It is hard for us to realize that much of the world lives on a bare subsistence level with millions who rarely have known a full meal in their lives. It is not too hard to realize that it is difficult to become philosophical about the advantages of democracy over communism when present problems concern the next meal.

Democracies find it difficult to get over to their voters, the fact that economic war is as expensive as a shooting war whereas dictatorships do not worry about voter opinion.

The Russian achievement of the "Sputnik" may well have been greatly to the country's advantage as it forced us to realize what we face. It is doubtful if any politician would dare to attempt placing a balanced budget and a stabilized dollar as a paramount consideration at this time.

Red ink in the budget will be certain and the purchasing power of the dollar must shrink. The lowering in purchasing power of the dollar, is never at a uniform or regular rate. All commodities and services do not rise the same or the same rate. By using various years as a base, many depreciations of the dollar can be shown. Using 1939 as a base, the 1957 purchasing power of the dollar is 48.8 cents.

Common stock representing as it does, the ownership of industry with productive capacity and inventories, must reflect purchasing power of the dollar.

Investors in Mutual Funds have the advantage of continuous management by specialists in various industries and whose managements demand and get intimate corporate reports not ordinarily available to the public.

There is another advantage to those Mutual Fund investors who use the "periodic re-investment" plans. Their dividends are re-invested as paid, usually quarterly.

They then have the advantage of compound interest which will eventually reflect current earnings plus depreciation of the dollar.

To find the number of years necessary to double a dollar on the basis of compound interest with quarterly re-investment, use the "Rule of 72." Take the rate of return (i. e. 5%) and divide into 72. In this case, it would take about 14 and a half years to double the dollar.

Because the earth's atmosphere bends the moon's rays, the moon is not actually where it appears to be when looked at from the ground.

Thomas Jefferson headed a political party called the Democratic Republicans.

"What's the matter, Pop? You WERE expecting him, weren't you?"

LITTLE BILL says:

6¢ a load is all you pay — to dry the clean electric way

An electric dryer does all this for just 6¢: 3 big bath towels, 6 hand towels, 2 sheets, 2 pairs shorts, 2 T-shirts, 5 pairs of socks, 3 pillowcases, 2 men's shirts. This average 8-lb. load will take only 25 to 30 minutes.

ELECTRIC DRYERS

cost
$30 to $60 less to buy
than any other kind

Just 6¢ to dry an 8-lb. load of clothes the electric way. And the electric way is the completely automatic way. No igniting devices to get out of order.

Clothes dried in an electric dryer have the good fresh smell of all outdoors, too. Electric heat is radiant heat... like the sun. Clean and dry... with no combustion odors to mix with the clothes.

Electric dryers are fast. You can dry a whole load of cottons in just 25 to 30 minutes. And all the "no-vent" dryers are electric. Your laundry stays clean, dry and comfortable, makes venting unnecessary.

You'll be amazed when your electric appliance dealer tells you how little it costs to own an electric dryer. Why not see about it soon?

Install Officers

The Good Luck Camp of Royal Neighbors, meeting at the Homer church social rooms Thursday, Jan. 16, will be directed by the new officers who were elected at the December meeting.

Elected were Mrs. Gladys Kesser, oracle; Mary Welter, vice oracle; Theresa Hemphill, past oracle; Anna White, Chancellor; Madeline Welter, recorder; Ida Harrington, receiver; Marie Welter, marshal; Hattie White, assistant marshal; Jennie Ott, manager, for three year term; Gertrude Heaterwick, inner sentinel; Ida Daley, outer sentinel; Jennie Ott, publicity chairman.

Hostesses will be Mesdames Marie Welter Jennie Ott, Dorothy Lister and Marie Homering.

Annual Meeting

Homer people who attended the annual meeting of the Lockport Council of Church women in Lockport Methodist church Friday were Mrs. Robert Shepherd, Mrs. Roy Hansen, Mrs. F. J. Paddock, Mrs. John White, Mrs. John Hollister and Mrs. Harvey Ingersoll. Mrs. Ingersoll is the newly installed president and Mrs. White will serve as chairman for the May Fellowship luncheon.

Other officers are vice president, Mrs. Ben Entwistle; treasurer, Mrs. Frank Rodgers; secretary, Mrs. George Fox; publicity, Mrs. Lawrence Charlton; World Community Day chairman, Mrs. Arthur Anderson; World Day of Prayer chairman, Mrs. Howard Gray.

The speakers, the Rev. and Mrs. Boldt of Joliet were greatly appreciated as were the solos by Mrs. Hollister who was accompanied by Mrs. White.

Walter Konow was removed to St. Joseph's hospital Saturday for medical treatment and observaion. He has been ill with a severe case of flu. The doctor also advised Mrs. Konow to remain in the hospital for rest and recuperation, but no room was available. Mr. Konow's sister, Mrs. Clara Grewning of Joliet, is staying in the Konow home.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dale were Sunday dinner guests in the William Morrison home near Frankfort, when the family celebrated Mrs. Dale's birthday and also that of her granddaughter, Patty Morrison.

Jerry Paddock entertained a group of young friends at a New Year party last Tuesday afternoon in his home. The guests were the first and second grade pupils of Wells Corner school and David Rowley, Jerry's cousin. Games and noise makers appropriate to the season were enjoyed by the youngsters, and refreshments were served by the oldsters of the family. Need we say, "A good time was had by all?"

The Ray Carlsons entertained at a Carlson family party last Sunday evening in their home. The guests included, besides the Carlsons four children, their uncle, Charles Bergstrom, of Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Carlson and son, of New Lenox and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Carlson and daughter of Joliet.

At the regular quarterly Communion service of Homer church last Sunday morning, the church was happy to welcome into its membership, the following: Mrs. Lois Swanson, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Grimm, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Morevec, Mrs. John W. Reiter and Mrs. Earl Burnsworth. Some came by letter from other churches and some by affirmation of faith.

Mrs. Edna Mergler has returned from a week's stay in the home of her son Ruland and family at Franklin Park.

S/Sgt. and Mrs. James Burnsworth and daughter, were Sunday visitors in the Earl Burnsworth home here.

This past week was "moving week" for the five schools which form the new school opened on Homer road Monday. Teachers, board members and local trucks have been busy packing and loading the equipment which was usable in the new school and discarding the useless accumulation of many years. Everything is said to be in readiness except the five pianos which are yet to be moved. This will doubtless be accomplished this week.

Mrs. Reed Burch has been ill with the flu and complications during the past week.

The oil industry has a capital investment that works out to $38,000 for each employe, as compared with $8,600 for manufacturing as a whole. The average annual salary per worker is $5,259 and welfare benefits cost the industry $1,278 a year for each hourly-paid employe.

Sales of imported automobiles—most of them small economy types—have been rising steadily and swiftly in this country. This causes National Review to speculate: "Maybe, instead of building the Edsel, the Ford Company should have revived the flivver."

1957 is Third Wettest Year In Area History

(CNS) The year 1957 was the third wettest in Chicago weather bureau history, though less than normal snow, according to the computations of John J. Sullivan, climatologist in charge of the records.

Precipitation totaled 44.39 inches, or 11.67 inches above the normal of 32.72 inches, almost doubling the 1956 total of 22.23 inches. This, however, was the driest year on record here.

The only years with more precipitation than 1957 were 1954, with 45.92 inches, and 1883, one of the first years in which records were kept, which showed 45.86 inches.

The big rainfall of last July 12 and 13, totaling 6.24 inches in 12 1/4 hours, which caused many flooded basements in Cook county, helped the year's total.

Snowfall, which in a melted-down form is counted as part of the precipitation, totaled only 29.1 inches, or six inches less than the normal of 35.1 inches. The biggest snowfall was seven inches on Jan. 9 and 10. Most of the wintry weather was in January, the first month, with an average of six degrees below normal temperatures and a total of 13 inches of snow.

Temperature for the year averaged 50.9 degrees compared to a normal of 50.1, with the mercury reaching 90 or over on 19 days, compared to a normal 28 and a high of 96 degrees, on June 17. The low was seven below zero on Jan. 14 and 15, after the big snowstorm, and the city had seven days with zero or below compared to a normal six.

Sunshine averaged 53 per cent of possible, which is six per cent less than the normal of 59 per cent, with 94 days clear, compared to a normal of 95; 88 were partly cloudy, compared to 105, and 183 were cloudy, compared to a normal of 165.

Harvey Federal Savings Observes 47th Anniversary

Open house will be held at Harvey Federal Savings and Loan Association in observance of its 47th anniversary, announced by John Bardwick, Jr., president. The observance began Dec. 30, anniversary of the association's original charter, and will continue thru Jan. 11. During the two-week period, persons insured savings accounts with $100.00 or more, or adding that amount to an existing account, will receive a gift of nationally advertised kitchen tools, says Bardwick.
